HENT

A wide-angle aerial photograph of a large-scale construction project. The central focus is a long, multi-story building with a modern design, featuring a mix of reddish-brown brickwork and light-colored panels. A prominent yellow sign on the right side of the building reads "HENT". To the left of the main building, there's a smaller structure and some construction equipment, including a white truck and a yellow excavator. In the foreground, a road leads towards the site, and there are several piles of snow or dirt on either side. The background is filled with a dense forest of tall evergreen trees under a clear blue sky.
